BLENNARD AZIZAJ

After he left his native country Albania at the age of 17, he graduated from the State School for Orchestral Art in Athens and participated as a dancer in the Hellenic Dance Company, the Akram Khan Dance Company and the Sasha Waltz Company and Guests in Berlin where he is currently based. Since 2016 he has choreographed 8 successful works in collaboration with institutions and companies like the Area Jeune Ballet in Geneva, the Stanislavsky and Nemirovich-Danchenko Moscow State Music Theater and the Volkstheater Rostock Dance Company. As a teacher he is often invited in various studios in Berlin like Maraméo, Tanzfabrik and Dock11 and is offering workshops all around Europe in dance spaces like the K3 Studio in Hamburg, Codarts Rotterdam, at the Legere Struttüre Art Factory in Bologna, but also in Israel, Greece and Albania.

About the Workshop In movement
Blennard's teaching deals with the transformation of movement and the building of deep dance vocabularies that derive from a conscious stepping out of our comfort zones. The parameters dynamics, sharpness and speed are therefore our main concern. In this way, the work aims to unveil and bring forward those unique features of our dancing personalities, which often remain deeply hidden.
